

Sound of essence

Miyabi is the line cable developed to transmit music of the original as it stands without losing the energy that exists.

We believe that the passion of the artist and everyone involved in the work is reproduced by transmit the energy of music has.

Miyabi does not use synthetic resin covering or metal-containing pigments for faithful and ideal transmission. The copper wire covering is silk thread, and the outer covering is cotton, dyeing is done with protein liquid and plant liquid.

Miyabi (gracefulness) as the name implies, makes it possible to reproduce an immaculate, serene, tasteful yet rich sound with overwhelming feelings of existence.
